

SETEC Elevators Awarded Contract by Turner Construction to Provide 14 Residential Elevators for the Upscale Le Bijou Paris Chateau Style Townhomes in Downtown Fort Worth, Texas

THESE HIGH-END RESIDENCES BOAST AFFLUENCE, SPLENDOR, AND PERSONAL ELEVATORS

January 26, 2007- SETEC Elevators, www.SetecElevators.com, a Texas independent elevator contractor, is working with Turner Construction to bring Schaumburg Architects' vision of an upscale Paris Chateau community to the heart of downtown Fort Worth, Texas. Close to Fort Worth's rich history and charm like Sundance Square, the Bass Performance Hall, and the Fort Worth Club, these homes boast top-of-the-line, modern-day amenities including Viking appliances, roof-top terraces, and Waupaca Elevator's personal home Designer elevators.

General Contractors often turn to small and mid-size independent companies with specialty work because they offer industry expertise along with cost savings often only available through independent companies. "While some independent companies are very small, SETEC Elevators is large enough to provide custom, code-compliant, stylish home elevators for a project of the multi-million dollar magnitude," said an industry expert.

"We are proud to have been selected as the elevator contractor for this exciting project designed to support Fort Worth City and the downtown community," said Tom Harrison, SETEC Elevators Owner and President.
